The Berry Head Hotel

Brixham ~ Devon ~ England

The Quintessentially English Hotel

The Berry Head Hotel is situated in what must be one of the most beautiful locations anywhere in the world. Combine that with a blend of personal service and friendly staff who are totally focused on the needs of their guests and you find an unique hotel, full of charm and atmosphere.

The House was built between 1801 and 1809 as a military hospital serving the Napoleonic forts at Berry Head. From 1833 until his death in 1847 it was occupied by Henry Francis Lyte and his family, and it was here that he wrote the famous hymn 'Abide with me' just four months before his death, inspired by his surroundings and the magnificent views.

The grounds were worked on by French prisoners of war who were given temporary shelter by Lyte after they were shipwrecked en-route to imprisonment. You will notice many trees, plants and herbs introduced during this time by Reverend Lyte from his visits abroad. Today the house retains much of its original charm nestling at the water's edge overlooking some of the finest sea and coastal views in the world. Its six acres of private grounds and woodland adjoin the Berry Head Country Park, originally part of the Estate and now owned by the National Trust. The Park which can be accessed from the grounds offers a Ramblers Paradise with miles of coastal path along the dramatic and unspoiled coastline to the River Dart and beyond, with small coves, rare wild flowers and the multitude of sea birds which find sanctuary in the cliffs. The Park is a designated area of Special Scientific Interest.

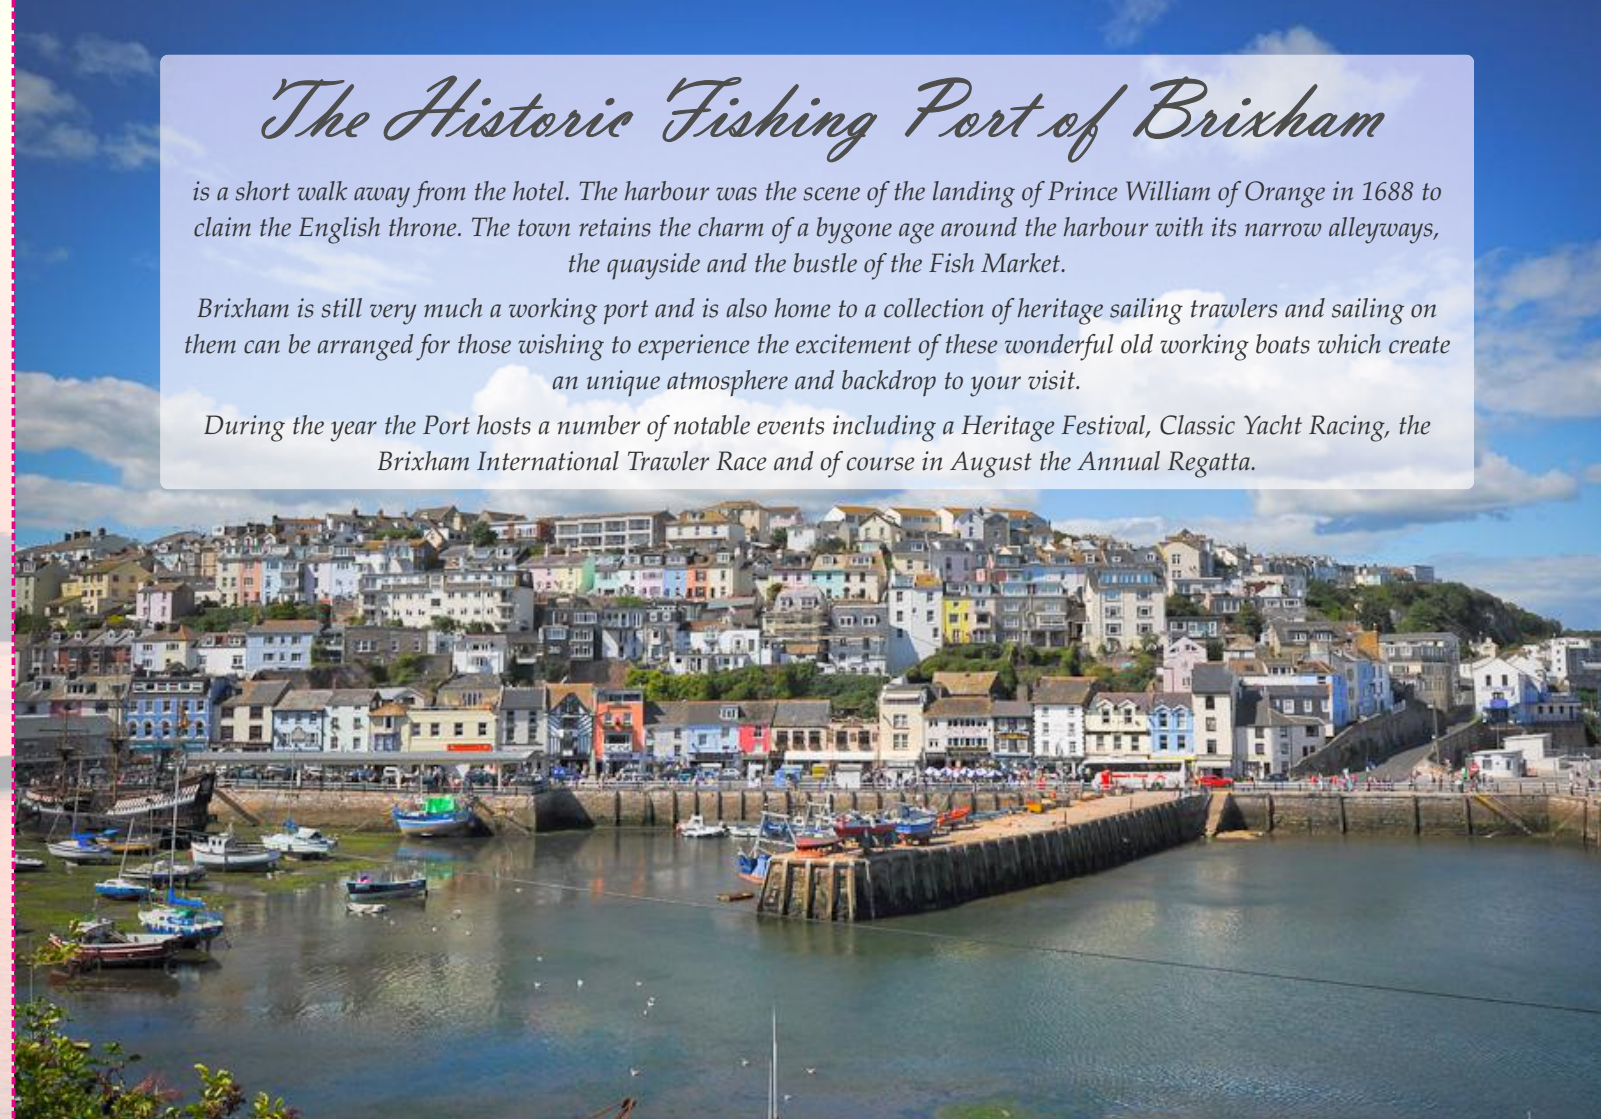

The Historic Fishing Port of Brixham

is a short walk away from the hotel. The harbour was the scene of the landing of Prince William of Orange in 1688 to claim the English throne. The town retains the charm of a bygone age around the harbour with its narrow alleyways, the quayside and the bustle of the Fish Market.

Brixham is still very much a working port and is also home to a collection of heritage sailing trawlers and sailing on them can be arranged for those wishing to experience the excitement of these wonderful old working boats which create a unique atmosphere and backdrop to your visit.

During the year the Port hosts a number of notable events including a Heritage Festival, Classic Yacht Racing, the Brixham International Trawler Race and of course in August the Annual Regatta.

A Taste of the Westcountry

'Food glorious food' is an important part of any visit to the Berry Head and Fish is naturally a speciality, delivered daily from the market and from the mussel farm half a mile offshore.

We take pride in sourcing the very best quality food, wherever possible from local suppliers in Devon and Cornwall. The Westcountry offers finest fresh produce right on our doorstep. Famous for its dairy products including Salcombe dairy ice cream and Salcombe Vineyard cheese and wine. Fresh meat from our award winning local butchers and of course fish for which Brixham is famed.

There is a choice of venue for dining, either from the 'View' Brasserie, or the more formal Bonaparte's Restaurant which offers a four course table d'hôte and a la carte menu. Whichever you choose you may be sure that the same care is taken in Cooking, and in the selection of fine foods.
